- Persuade owners to sell or rent (blockbusting)
- Deny anyone access to or membership in a facility or service related to the sale or rental of housing
- Retaliate against a person for making a fair housing complaint.

Emerging Issue: Criminal Activity Nuisance Ordinances (CANOs)

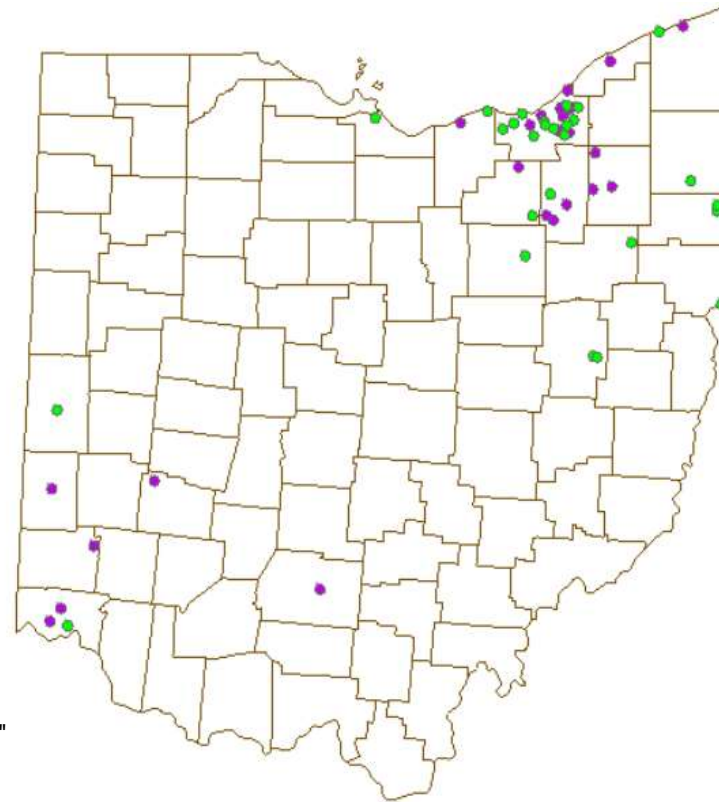

CANOs are local laws that punish property owners for repeated incidents of so-called nuisance activity.

Often focus on activity such as noise violations, animal complaints, assault, trespassing and drug activity. Some are very broad.

Criminal Activity Nuisance Ordinances (CANOs)

Concentrated in Northeast Ohio, especially in Cuyahoga County

Mead, Joseph; Hatch, Megan; Tighe, J. Rosie; Pappas, Marissa; Andrasik, Kristi; and Bonham, Elizabeth, "Who is a Nuisance? Criminal Activity Nuisance Ordinances in Ohio" (2017). Urban Publications. 0 1 2 3
1509.https://engagedscholarship.csuohio.edu/urban_facpub/1509

Criminal Activity

Nuisance Ordinances (CANOs)

- Penalties typically take the shape of a warning to the property owner, followed by fines for each subsequent alleged violation.
- Warning letters instruct property owners to “abate the nuisance”. When the complaints are related to the tenants in the rental property only the owner is typically notified.

Criminal Activity Nuisance Ordinances (CANOs)

- CANOs can violate residents' fair housing rights when they impact their housing. The most common result of a CANO citation is eviction of the tenant.

Discussion:
Implications of CANO's on Fair Housing

Frequently Asked Questions

Are demolition projects covered by the requirements of Section 3?

Yes. Recipients of assistance covered by Section 3 should, where feasible, comply with Section 3 benchmarks.

When might a recipient agency be exempt from the quantitative reporting requirements of Section 3?

A Small Public Housing Agency (less than 250 units) may elect not to report on labor hours. If the agency does not elect to report on labor hours, it is required to report solely on qualitative efforts as permitted in 24 C.F.R. 75.15(d).

When community development specialists put their heads and hearts together, they accomplish great things for the people they serve.

In collaboration with federal, state, and local organizations, OCCD is proud to provide information and training to help you help your community thrive, including a newly introduced curriculum designed to build a foundation in community and economic development.

Trainings are provided in conjunction with OCCD Quarterly Meetings and as standalone trainings ranging from one to three days. For a complete list of upcoming trainings offered by OCCD and our partners, please view our Training Calendar. We look forward to seeing you!
